Jessica has been involved in the International Department at Kerikeri High School for 11 years, firstly as the International Office Manager and for the last 6 years as the Director of International.

Jessica has three children, two of which have graduated Kerikeri High School and the youngest is studying in Year 13. She previously worked in Business and Operations Management, and one of her previous roles was managing a riding school where she discovered her affinity with teenagers.

Jessica enjoys travelling and travelled extensively as a younger person doing her "O.E." "Working in the International Department is my dream job; I enjoy meeting people and making connections all over the world, as well as looking after the international students and encouraging them to make the best of life in New Zealand".
