

Amira Aman

Leadership Development Consultant

Topic: Leading with Insight - How Psychometric Profiling Transforms Personal & Professional Growth in Education.

Amira has had twenty years of experience as a teacher and leader in secondary education as well as ten years in leadership training. She has a Master of Education (First Class Hons) in Educational Leadership with specialisation in adult learning and mentoring and coaching. She holds EOCC ICF (International Coaching Federation) certification; is a certified eDISC profiling coach; and is a Public Service Commission approved coach for Public Services for Mid-level leaders of leaders, People and Thought leaders. She is a Level 2 advanced accredited coach for eDISC profiling.

She currently works for Leadership Development, supporting principals and Board of Trustees in attesting to the requirements for Appraisal/Principal and Senior Leader Professional Growth Cycle. Amira also offers leadership workshops for leaders in understanding self as a leader, coaching and mentoring skills and the art of courageous conversations. She works with leadership and teaching teams using eDISC profiling to develop stronger teams who know how to communicate effectively.

Amira also supports leaders in business to develop their ability to grow others in their organisations through mentoring and coaching. She provides guidance for organisations to design and implement their own formalised mentoring and coaching programmes to grow leadership capacity from within.

Past leadership training has included Effective Mentoring Skills at The Canterbury Employers' Chamber of Commerce, Mentoring for Police Women, and Leadership and eDISC profiling for the Government Women's Network.

Amira has also been working in PLD delivery for ten years with Tātai Aho Rau, CORE Education as a kaiārahi (mentor) and lead facilitator who specialises in mentoring/coaching and the development of leadership capabilities. She works with principals, leaders of clusters of schools and teachers to develop their teaching and leadership pedagogy. She runs workshops on the development of mentoring and coaching skills, growing leadership capacity, building effective teams and school culture and the art of courageous conversations.
